MfM supports communities in Madagascar to preserve rainforests and protect biodiversity

Unique Madagascar.....

- Madagascar is 'megadiverse', with 5% of all known animal and plant species on the planet found there
- 250,000 species, including over 100 lemur species, are found nowhere else on earth!
- New species are still being identified all the time, many plants have useful properties that can be used to treat serious conditions such as cancer and diabetes

What is MfM doing?

- MfM provides impoverished farmers with sustainable alternatives to deforestation so that they no longer need to destroy the precious forest for survival
- MfM supports community-led restoration of the endangered Indri lemur's rainforest habitat; planting rainforest corridors with over 60 species on indigenous trees
- MfM supports locally led ecotourism initiatives, enabling Malagasy people to benefit from local biodiversity
- MfM supports environmental education, bringing up a new generation to understand the value of their unique natural heritage

What can you do?

- Restore Madagascar's disappearing rainforests by sponsoring our reforestation project around Andasibe
- Protect Madagascar's existing rainforest by supporting our livelihoods work around Andasibe and Betampona
- Raise funds and awareness by organising a 'Lemur Bounce' or other fundraising event in your local community
- Check out our website for more ideas and opportunities

Fragile Madagascar....

- Poverty is threatening the future of both the people and the wildlife of Madagascar
- Madagascar is one of the poorest countries in the world with 50% of children suffering malnutrition
- Over 80% of virgin forest has been lost
- Of Madagascar's 101 lemur species, 22 are critically endangered & 48 are endangered

"Congratulations MfM on all you have done to help protect Madagascar's marvellous forests and the many species that live there." Madagascar is home to a multitude of marvellous creatures that live only there. They urgently need all the help and protection we can give them.
